Urbana U. displays Tiffany windows

URBANA — "In Company with Angels: Seven Rediscovered Tiffany Windows" is a unique exhibit of seven stained glass windows created by Tiffany and Company in 1903 as a gift from a sister Swedenborgian church to the Church of the New Jerusalem in Cincinnati. In 1964, the church was torn down to make room for a new interstate highway. The windows were rescued and stored in different members' homes. A nationwide fundraising effort in the 1990s allowed the Swedenborgian Church at Temenos in West Chester, Pa., to buy the windows and save them.

The windows were taken out of the church's storage barn and begun to be restored. In 2005, when the windows were confirmed to be Tiffany artwork, the nonprofit organization, In Company with Angels Inc., was formed to finish the restoration and begin to share them with others.

Urbana University and the Miller Center for Visual Arts will host this unique and beautiful exhibit from Saturday to Dec. 30 in the Swedenborg Memorial Library on UU's campus. The exhibit will be open to the public for extended hours. Symposia, programs, and tours are also planned.

Saturday at 6 p.m., the exhibit will open with a program by the Rev. Susannah Currie, pastor of the Bridgewater New Jerusalem Church in Bridgewater, Mass., on the history of the windows and the In Company with Angels organization.

The grand opening weekend will continue with a public presentation, "Angel Music," by the Rev. Ken Turley, president of the General Convention of the New Jerusalem, on Sunday, from 3 to 4 p.m. in the library. Following the presentation, both Currie and Turley will be available to answer questions by visitors to the exhibit.

On Monday at 7 p.m. in the library, Currie and Turley will present the annual Swedenborg Scholar Lecture, "Spiritual Significance of the 'Seven'."

For a full schedule of the hours of the exhibit and programs, visit www.urbana.edu/angels.

Tickets to the exhibit are $5.

They may be purchased at the door or online at the website. In Company with Angels merchandise will be available for purchase at the Swedenborg Memorial Library during the run of the exhibit.

SCARF makes report

The board of directors of the Shelby County Animal Rescue Foundation (SCARF) recently released statistics about its operations since its inception several months ago.

The group supports the Shelby County Animal Shelter by raising funds and recruiting and training volunteers.

Organizations whose members regularly volunteer at the shelter, thanks to SCARF efforts, are the Sidney High School National Honor Society and Student Government, the Styling Company and the Fairlawn High School FFA. One training session has been held for individuals who want to volunteer and others will be planned.

Fundraising, including Cans for Canines drives, have provided monies as follows: $279.74 spent on dog and cat food, enough of a supply to feed the pets for six weeks; $408.41 spent to purchase food storage containers, bleach and other supplies; and $559 used to purchase veterinary supplies.

In addition, SCARF paid for veterinary care for seven pets.

SCARF directors and volunteers organized seven adoption events resulting in the adoption of 10 puppies, four dogs, one cat and five kittens.

Donations can be mailed to SCARF at P.O. Box 671, Sidney, OH 45365. For information or to volunteer, email helpshelbycountyanimals@gmail.com or visit www.facebook.com/helpshelbycountyanimals.
